

National Tactical Officers Association's (NTOA) Member Tested and Recommended Program Rates Xacore's Wireless PTT Radio Audio Accessory 4.14 out of 5

TONAWANDA, NY – (March 26, 2009) - After a thirty-day field test of the Xacore wireless PTT radio audio accessory by two testers, the verdict is in. Xacore's x-21000 series received an overall rating of 4.14 out of 5. The NTOA Member Tested and Recommended Program field tested the accessory and evaluated design, performance, ease of use, size, quality, durability, storage, versatility, convenience, application and comfort.

The new Xacore wireless tactical/surveillance kit consists of a wireless finger/sniper PTT and an in-line body PTT for redundancy. Audio is transmitted to the ear via a traditional medical grade acoustic tube. The entire kit is modular so that parts such as the acoustic tube, clothing clip, speaker, and wireless finger PTT can be replaced.

The Xacore wireless finger/sniper PTT is available on many different Xacore products, including headsets, temple transducers and motorcycle kits.
